Coach's Comments

“ The only thing really disappointing about last weekend was not being rewarded with at least 1 win when we played well enough for that at minimum. Everyone worked really hard throughout the weekend, and a feel good win would have been nice. I think we showed we have some speed and a good work ethic and hopefully over time that will convert to some success. Like we said from day one upon entering this league our starting point was trying to be competitive each night. We have some very, very tough teams coming up including this weekend at Belfast, and then home to Cardiff who are doing very well in Champions League European competition. It is a big challenge for us, and we have a group of guys excited about testing ourselves in this significant way early in the season. If there was one thing that perhaps really hurt us last weekend it was probably a bit of fatigue. It was a tough week, multiple practices per day Monday to Friday and then two good paced games. You could see we were getting tired near the end of periods, and at the end of the weekend. This past week was a bit more normal, and whilst we won't be at peak performance by any stretch, and certainly there is no chance of an easy night against the competition coming up, I would think at least we might feel a bit fresher deeper into games than we were last weekend. These are going to be tough tests and there will be some tough times ahead as we get used to the new league, but we are ready for that. We hope you all enjoy sharing the weekend with us. ”
