Coach's Comments

“ It was a tough night last Sunday here when Sheffield visited on the back of our confidence boosting point at Panthers the night before. All these teams are extremely talented and it is a tall order every night to try and stay with them. We are learning to compete in this league and we are going to have some tough lessons along the way like we did Sunday. That is not news. That is something we have been open about all off season. We have a great deal of respect for every opponent, and are fully aware of what they can do, but Sunday we did very little to resist Sheffield, and they did what teams like that are capable of which was dominate. Every team will be able to do that if we don't get close to our best performance. We have to be working on our speed, we have to be trying to be on top of people and doing what we can to limit opposing talent from imposing their will at every turn. We were able to do that much more so in the earlier games. Good teams, and in fact great individual athletes, are known through objective study to be very good at focusing on the process of their tasks and spending very little or no time at all thinking about the outcome. The process you have control over, the outcome you do not. That is something we need to use as our compass going forward.

If you look at the big picture of the start we have had, we have had a lot of positives in terms of on ice competition, level of effort and enthusiasm of our players, and even generated some results nobody expected. Looking at the schedule of playing Champions League European level competition 4 times in the opening 4 games of our league membership was scary, but for the most part we acquitted ourselves very well as a new club.

Perhaps for the first time in club history, there are no nights where we should just expect to win. Any win we get, we are going to have to earn. We are excited to be a part of our new reality, and we look forward to seeing how we progress across the 60ish games ahead.
